Installment Credit Limits Set by New Legislation

A bill to protect the consumer from excessive interest charges and other abuses in installment credit selling, sponsored by Assemblyman Vincent Thomas of San Pedro, has been signed into law by Governor Brown.

The bill, which Thomas called "the most important piece of economic legislation considered by the State Legislature in years, probably since the depression," was aimed at installment selling racketeers uncovered by an interim committee study last year.

"It is a clear warning to those who would prey on the buying public in any way that their despicable practices will not be tolerated," Assemblyman Thomas said. "It assures the people of the 68th District that they will be protected."

FURTHERMORE, at the same time it guards the consumer, the law by setting up safeguards protects the reputable businessman who never has been a party to the questionable procedures brought to light by the interim study.

"This is a bill that will be welcomed by both the public and the businessman," he stated.

Thomas said the bill provides that in all credit transactions of $50 or more:

1. There must be a clear warning to the buyer to read the contract.
2. The contract must set forth the cash sale price, down payment, trade-in and other terms.
3. Insurance coverage must be at authorized premium rates.
4. A limit of 5/8 of one percent on the unpaid balance of items under $1000, with a limit of 2/3 of one percent on unpaid balance over $1000.
5. Contracts must include provisions for full payment before expiration of contract, with a portion of the financing charge to be refunded.

Wage attachments are prohibited and repossessions limited under the act.

Doctors to Talk At Meeting of Seaside Women

"Courtship, Marriage and the Family" is the subject of a talk to be given by two practicing physicians of Redondo Beach, Dr. Gordon Maughan, obstetrician and gynecologist, and Dr. Peter Pinto, pediatrician, at a meeting of the Women's Guild of Seaside Community E&B Church, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, at the church, 2304th and Ocean Ave. A question and answer period will follow the talk.

Following the brief business meeting, Mrs. Elmer Peters and Mrs. Lee Savage, hostesses, will serve refreshments.

Women's Guild President Mrs. Roger Schriever was recently elected to the office of second vice president of the Regional Women's Guild at the regional spring meeting.

Murder Site To Be Sold At Auction

A Cabrillo Ave. house which was the site of a Halloween slaying will be sold at auction May 15, according to a notice filed this week.

Being sold for non-payment of a trust deed is the residence of Kenneth Crane at 22910 Cabrillo Ave. Crane is currently serving a manslaughter term for the shotgun murder of his wife, Joan, last October.

The three Crane children have been living with relatives since the tragedy.

MOUNTIES HONORED
Torrance Mounted Police took the first place trophy the 1959 San Bernardino County Sheriff's Rodeo Parade from downtown San Bernardino to the National Oregon Show grounds last Sunday.
